

Stratton Signs School Bill

Filibuster Ends

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Senate Democrats failed today to get action on a bill to provide an additional 11 million dollars for the state's common school aid fund.

They backed down on their late-session filibuster in protest of what they termed Gov. William G. Stratton's "inadequate" school aid measures, and agreed to resumption of normal Senate procedures.

Senate Minority Leader William J. Lynch (D-Chicago) said the Democrats would no longer "stand in the way of necessary legislation."

He had introduced a measure which would provide another 11 million dollars for use only if the governor found the 227 million dollars insufficient to keep the school aid program at the current $200 per pupil per year level.

Lynch asked that it be advanced to amendment stage without consideration by a committee—the only way it could be passed this late in the session. The Republican majority refused.

Lynch told the Senate the Republicans weren't even sure the 227 million dollars would be enough, as evidenced by their statements that Stratton had promised to support a deficiency appropriation in 1959 if it became necessary.

The House killed a bill sponsored by Rep. John K. Morris (D-Chadwick) aimed at boosting the state corporation franchise taxes by 25 million dollars a year, with the increase to be earmarked for school aid.

It would have increased the tax from 1-20th of 1 per cent of stated capital and surplus to 1-4 of 1 per cent.

Opponents charged it would drive industry out of Illinois and prevent new industry from entering the state, despite Morris' assertion that Illinois corporation taxes were the third lowest in the nation.

The Senate Republican majority stopped this move by forcing to passage the 227-million-dollar bill. Stratton then immediately signed the 227-million-dollar measure into law, although usually he takes a week or so to act on a bill.

The strategy was to resolve the school aid issue and leave the Democrats without anything to filibuster about.

But after the governor's action, Democratic leader Wm. J. Lynch announced he would introduce a separate bill to appropriate the 11 million dollars in addition to the 227-million-dollar bill.

Meantime, the House passed more than a score of bills, most of them appropriation bills to run various state agencies for the coming two years—including the 650-million dollar highway construction program.

Other bills passed would:

Create a commission to study the disparity between food prices and the prices farmers receive for their crops.

Boost the legal gross weight of trucks with five or more tandem axles from 68,000 pounds to 72,000 pounds.

Permit justices of the peace and magistrates to use public court rooms with charge when circuit and other higher courts are not using them.

Farm Home is Hit by Lightning

Arthur Wintizer's farm home at Big Ridge was struck by lightning during the storm on Monday. The roof caught fire and a rafter was burned almost in half. Mrs. Wintizer, who was alone at the time, managed to get a 16 foot ladder against the house and threw water on the blaze. Unable to control the fire, she called her neighbor, Marion Fox, who put out the fire.

During the storm of June 13, Mr. Wintizer moved his son's new car from under a large tree that was rocking and looked as if it would fall. The tree didn't fall, but a large limb did and crushed the car and windshield, causing approximately $150 damage.

Farmers Vote Thursday on Wheat Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wheat farmers in 36 states vote Thursday in a national referendum to determine whether their 1958 crop shall be under rigid government marketing controls.

The Agriculture Department, as usual, has taken no stand for or against controls for the 1958 crop. The department holds that this is strictly up to the farmers.

Department economists predict privately the vote is "likely to be close." Upwards of 950,000 to 1,000,000 farmers are eligible to vote in the poll booths set up throughout the commercial wheat area. Based on past performance, probably not more than 300,000 will vote.

The voters have this choice: Whether to accept for the fifth successive year wheat marketing quotas. A majority of two-thirds of those voting must approve quotas before they become effective.

If quotas are approved, all farmers in commercial wheat states with more than 15 acres of wheat will be subject to quotas; any "excess" wheat will be subject to quota penalties; price support at a national average of $1.78 a bushel will be available to producers who do not exceed their farm acreage allotments.

If quotas are not approved, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties. Acreage allotments would remain in effect, by law, and price support would be available at 50 per cent of parity for producers who comply with farm wheat allotments. Department officials estimate that 50 per cent of parity for the 1958 crop will be about $1.18 a bushel.

Hoffa Trial Opens Despite Defense Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—The bribery-conspiracy trial of Teamsters Union Vice President James R. Hoffa got under way today despite a defense charge that the government used illegal wiretapping in the case.

The government denied the charge.

On trial with Hoffa is Miami Attorney Hyman I. Fishbach. They are accused of trying to plant a spy in the Senate Rackets Committee which has been investigating Teamsters Union officials.

Selection of a jury was expected to take most of the day.

Federal Judge Burnita S. Matthews refused to hold up the trial in order to study defense charges that the government was guilty of wiretapping. Hoffa's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, said the defense had information from a Detroit lawyer, Lawrence Burns, indicating wiretapping.

Hoffa did not elaborate on the information from Burns, but he said the government had acquired evidence "which could only result from monitoring and stenographic transcription" of telephone conversations.

Judge Matthews denied a motion to suppress evidence on this ground.

President Says Justice Dep't Studies Rulings

Indicates He May Ask Legislation to Offset Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today defended his civil rights program as a very moderate, decent one.

He told his news conference that he was disappointed that some opponents contended it would destroy their own civil rights. He apparently referred to critics who attacked the House-passed measure on grounds it would deprive persons of trial by jury in certain cases.

Eisenhower said his program was designed with the idea of moderation and not with the idea of persecution of anyone.

He ducked a question about whether he would recommend that Republicans try to keep the Senate in session long enough to break any filibuster by southern Democrats against the legislation.

In other news conference highlights, Eisenhower:

Said the Justice Department is studying recent far-reaching Supreme Court decisions on the question of constitutional rights of individuals. He declined to comment on whether he believes the court has gone too far at the expense of law enforcement procedures and investigative functions of Congress. However, he indicated the administration might ask for new legislation to offset parts of the decisions. No Reprimand for Stassen

Described the most recent disarmament proposals by the Russians as hopeful signs which deserve the most earnest and energetic study. He said that he would be willing to make some temporary arrangement to suspend nuclear tests, with safeguards as a preliminary step toward general disarmament on a permanent basis.

Said that there seemed to be a very improved atmosphere about the disarmament negotiations. He preferred not to discuss them in detail lest he might disturb them. He said it appears negotiators on both sides are sincere at this time and not using the talks as a propaganda sounding board.

Said flatly that Disarmament Ambassador Harold E. Stassen was not reprimanded recently as had been rumored. However, the President said that reports had reached him that Stassen was moving too fast and that he was brought home for consultation to

Council Throws Out Parking Meter Bids

Action Follows Weeks of Dissension on Types; Budget Ordinance Read

The Harrisburg city council, after weeks of dissension on the question of whose parking meters to buy, finally threw the whole thing out the window Tuesday.

There were indications, however, that the proposition might be brought up anew.

After Byron Hogan of Springfield, representative of the Magee-Hale Co., declared that the bids had been running for eight weeks and that he was pulling out of his bid, Commissioner Charles Hine made the motion that all bids be thrown out and this was seconded by Commissioner Don Williams.

On roll call vote Commissioners Sneed Jordan joined Hine and Williams in passing the motion with Mayor Claud Gibbons voting no and Commissioner Morris Darnell voting present.

Bids Are Close

The bids of Hogan and Orval Nelson were opened weeks ago but no vote has been taken on which to accept, due chiefly to Mayor Gibbons keeping it from coming to a vote.

Tuesday the question of buying 100 parking meters through the bids submitted came up again.

Bids, it was pointed out, were very close, both bidding on automatics and the Magee-Hale being less than $2 cheaper and Nelson also submitting two bids on Duncan manually-operated meters.

A compromise motion was then submitted by Hine, which called for buying 34 Duncan meters, similar to the ones on the city parking lot, to be used on the new parking lot on Poplar near Jackson when this lot is put into operation; and 66 Magee-Hale meters to replace 10-year-old Magee-Hale meters on the streets.

Mayor Contends Right

Mayor Gibbons made a vigorous plea for the Duncan manual meters saying he thought they were better.

After considerable discussion the mayor was informed there was a motion before the house, and Gibbons said he would not entertain a motion on the bids on the grounds that the Magee-Hale bid of Hogan did not say that the meters would be new ones.

When asked his opinion, City Attorney George B. Lee said that in his opinion, the bid would have to refer to new meters because the council invited new meter bids.

Then mayor Gibbons contended he had the right to buy parking meters himself, that under the parking meter ordinance he could

Board of Review Now In Session

The Saline County Board of Review went into session Monday and notices will be given as township assessment books come in to the court house.

Redouble Efforts To Meet Quota For Bloodmobile

A special invitation to vacationing college students to donate blood during the Bloodmobile visits this Thursday and Friday has been extended, as efforts to fulfill Saline County's quota are being redoubled in view of the critical shortage of whole blood at the St. Louis Regional Blood Center of the Red Cross.

The Bloodmobile will be at the Carrier Mills Masonic temple on Thursday, from 12 noon until 6 p. m., and at the Harrisburg Elks club on Friday at the same hours.

In emphasizing the urgent need for blood from this county, Russell Malan, county Blood Program chairman, called on every church and organization in the county to urge their members to cooperate in giving blood to replenish the supply in the St. Louis center. A special reminder was issued to RH negative donors that their blood is most urgently needed, since the supply of RH negative blood at the center is completely exhausted and the need is critical.

Anyone not contacted to give blood may phone 703, the county Red Cross office, or simply appear at either place designated above at the times mentioned.

NEW HARRISBURG DISTRICT OFFICE BUILDING of the General Telephone Company of Illinois, which already is in use by the commercial office staff. Now in offices in the building are Millard Lynch, district manager, Miss Olive Parker, cashier; Mrs. Delma Webb and Miss Emma Harris, assistant cashiers. Other personnel to move in will be the Harrisburg maintenance forces. Workmen are busy installing dial equipment on schedule for the anticipated start of dial service in Harrisburg in the early fall. The above building, a one-story brick structure, is 48 by 170 feet in dimensions including a 12-car garage at the rear. The building will be completely air-conditioned, except for the garage. Grave, Difficult Decision

Editorial By Bruce Blossat

No issue in many years has so bewildered the world's ordinary citizens as has the question of the
ons.

The matter has been made more confusing by the fact that it was injected into our 1956 presidential campaign and is at all times — but especially now — a major item in Russia's propaganda arsenal.

If people everywhere are to understand the issue, responsible leaders must strive harder than they have to separate it into its principal parts.

As a preliminary, politics obviously ought to have nothing to do with the question. To find Democrats and Republicans lined up on opposite sides of it would be to discover a tragic failure of political responsibility.

Legitimately the matter seems to exist on three levels: moral, scientific, and military.

On the moral plane, some men,
including certain scientists, writers, philosophers and other molders of opinion, believe that regardless of other considerations the United States should exert moral leadership by initiating a total ban on further nuclear tests.

But the moral argument is not weighing heavily at this moment in history. The big debate comes on the scientific and the military-strategic levels.

Large numbers of scientists argue that radiation peril from nuclear tests is, or soon will be, so great for present and future generations that a total or partial test ban is vital.

Other scientists, no less eminent,
minimize the danger and say tests
can go on for a long period.

Some who see danger ahead ignore military considerations. Others presume to declare we are in a secure position with the nuclear stockpile we now have.

The actual safety of America and its free world friends is the controlling factor studied at the military level.

In other words, even if the scientific argument were clearly resolved on the side that danger was great, the men in charge of free world destinies might still declare that the risk would have to be taken in the interest of survival in competition with a hostile communist.

Such a decision cannot be taken by a scientist acting as a scientist,
nor by a moralist in his capacity
as a moral leader.

It can only be taken by statesmen seeking to balance all factors but, by the very nature of their high responsibilities, giving priority to considerations affecting the protection of free men from attack.

Since the scientific question is not resolved, no such difficult choice must yet be made. In the scientific uncertainty which exists,
it should cause little surprise that President Eisenhower and other key leaders put heavy stress on the free world's need to secure itself.

Some may accuse them of giving prime weight to the scientific arguments which minimize the possible peril. But the fact is, those arguments exist and are not to be discredited any more than are opposition views.

Whatever else may be said, it cannot be thought that the men with whom this awful choice rests have any wish to harm humanity.
All the evidence indicates they want to preserve it—but most particularly that part of it which can and does choose to live in freedom.

LITTLE LIZ

"I'm Going Out to Lunch---Call Back Later"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Nixon-Stassen Rivalry Gets
Mixed Up In Disarmament;
GOP Old Guard Doesn't Like
Stassen; Russians Stole Stassen's Proposals While He Bickered.

WASHINGTON. — The blunt,
inside fact of the disarmament talks is that Russia jumped in and took over much of the U. S. disarmament plan while the United States was bickering over two things:

1. Old Guard Republican prejudice against modern Republican Harold Stassen as the disarmament negotiator.

The secretary of state has 3-ways bowed from the waist when anything German approaches, dating from the days when, as attorney for New York banks he urged the American public to invest in now worthless German bonds. So when re-election-worried Cancellor Adenauer demanded that German unification come before disarmament agreement with Russia,
Dulles got jittery.

Bickering over Stassen was one of the by-products. In the end it injected American domestic politics into the all-important problem of peace. By injecting it, we let the Russians get world-credit for taking the initiative on something we were the first to propose —banning H-bomb tests. We did it secretly, however. The Russians did it publicly.

STASSEN THE NEGOTIATOR

Inside fact about Harold Stassen is that he is an excellent negotiator. He is tough, charming, tireless. He can sit through hours of wrangling and diplomatic abuse, then come back smiling with: "All right, now let's get back to the main point."

Even career diplomats who don't particularly like him admit Stassen has given disarmament a real chance for success.

But the more disarmament appears on the verge of success, the more Stassen is subject to undercutting at home. Not in years has an American diplomatic negotiator been subject to so many leaks.
Every move that might discredit
Stassen is leaked. If John Foster
Dulles has a long talk with him
during which he voices criticism, it is leaked as a reprimand. If Stassen steps on Allied toes it is leaked that he is a diplomatic bungler.

Reason for these leaks is quite simple. Stassen stepped on some Old Guard toes and stepped on then when he opposed Nixon for vice president last year. Furthermore, the old guard knows, and Nixon knows, that if Stassen should succeed and become the great achiever of disarmament, his political star would zoom to dangerous heights.

So every time Stassen appears on the verge of success, the boys around Nixon get jittery.

Big stakes are involved. Not merely the peace of the world,
but the presidential nomination for 1960. This ought not to be true.
Peace should not be mixed up with politics. But it is.

Was Stassen Reprimanded?
Specifically, Stassen was yanked back from London when western allies claimed he had gone over their heads and given a
"talking paper" to the Russians.

He had given the same paper to the French, British, and Germans, but they seemed to feel that he should talk only to them until the west had agreed on a common front.

Stassen, on the other hand, believed that two powers only hold the key to disarmament—the U. S.
A. and U. S. S. R. If they can agree, the others will come along.

Allied ambassadors promptly protested to Secretary Dulles that Stassen had gone over their heads.
Dulles pretended he knew nothing about it and pulled Stassen home. Actually he did know about it. Stassen had kept him informed on everything, also had advance authority from Dulles to talk privately to Soviet delegate Zorin.

What burned Dulles up was the way Stassen allowed himself to get caught.

While Stassen was en route home, the secretary of state went to see President Eisenhower, discussed with him whether Stassen should be fired. The President has a high opinion of Stassen's negotiating ability, but ducked any decision. He left the matter up to Dulles.

There followed a 90-minute session between Dulles and Stassen.
This gave rise to reports that Stassen was reprimanded. In a sense he was, in a sense he was not. During the long talk, Stassen spelled out to Dulles everything
he had done in London and showed him that he hadn't said a word to the Russians that had not been authorized from Washington.

Dulles, in the end, concurred,
sent him back to London.

But, during all this bickering,
the Russians got the jump on us.
Hardly had Stassen unpacked his suitcase than Soviet delegate Zorin publicly popped the American plan of a moratorium on H-bomb tests. Zorin went further. He proposed two to three years. Stassen had proposed one year. Zorin did not, however, go for Stassen's idea of a start toward the banding of all atomic weapons production, which the Pentagon considers all-important.

Most important of all, as seen through this confusion of diplomatic double-talk, is that the Russians have come a long, long way toward disarmament. If we can rise above political bickering at home, and diplomatic bickering abroad, there may be a real chance for a start toward peace.

CARBONDALE, Ill.—One thousand photo-reproduced volumes from the personal library of Thomas Jefferson have been acquired by The Southern Illinois University library.

The books, many of which were personally brought here from Europe by President Jefferson, have been filmed on microcard (a 3 by 5-inch photographic print that contains from 30 to 50 pages of the average size manuscript.)

John Cook Wylie, curator of rare books at the University of Virginia, selected the volumes from a total of seven thousand in the Jefferson library, which was purchased by Congress after the British burned the first Library of Congress during the war of 1812.

The library, which contained the best rounded collections of books about America and some of the finest works in government, literature and philosophy available in the 18th century, formed the beginning of the present national library.

Microcards of the thousand volumes, which can be housed in two showboxes, must be read by means of a special device which magnifies the print to normal page size. The cost of the micro-prints is only a fraction of the price that the original collection would bring if it were available for sale.

The Jefferson collection is one of a large and important collections that SIU intends to purchase on microtext as a means of enlarging its research library.

MR. AND MRS. LAFOE BRADLEY are shown at the conference table formerly used by Lincoln in the Illinois State House, which is in their home at 114 West Logan street.

Table Used By Lincoln in State House Now In LaFoe Bradley Home

To sit at a table where Lincoln sat is something!

But to own a table at which he sat, and one around which policy making decisions were made, possibly even the decision to run for the presidency, is something else.

Such a table is owned and right here in Harrisburg in the home of Mr. and Mrs. LaFoe Bradley, 114 West Logan street.

How it came to be there is an interesting story involving the history of the Illinois State house, its renovation a few years ago and the high-jacking of the table in transit to the Southern Illinois Penitentiary at Menard.

A Lincoln conference table was surely never intended to be sentenced to "the pen."

It had been removed from the state house to make room for modern furnishings and transfer agents were instructed to deliver it to the state penitentiary at Menard. En route they stopped at Du Quoin where a filling station at which they gassed up was overrun with beverage bottles and wooden cases. The owner, who has since died, bemoaned the situation and the truck driver blithely unloaded a long solid walnut table and while his truck was being gassed, stacked the empty bottles and cases on it.

Some weeks later LaFoe Bradley stopped at the same station, noticed the table and propositioned the owner to buy it. He didn't want to sell, the table was roomy, just what he needed. Mr. Bradley became very persuasive, and successfully so.

The authentic Lincoln conference table with its original "stretchers" used no doubt as a foot-rail by the Railsplitter in his early political career, graces the dining room at the Bradley home.

Overhead hangs a beautiful wrought iron light fixture, made by Mr. Bradley to complement the antique furnishings of the room, and in the entrance hall is an original wrought iron ceiling lamp which came from New Orleans. This light was very likely in use in some plantation home when Lincoln, watching the auction of slaves, resolved to bring about the freedom of colored people in the United States.

Gray Urges Pay Raise for Postal Workers

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In testimony before the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (D), Illinois today urged action on H. R. 5050, his bill to grant a pay raise to Post Office employees.

Gray told the Committee that postal workers were not receiving a salary commensurate with their responsibilities. He said he had received hundreds of complaints from postal workers in his district in southern Illinois to the effect that their salaries were not adequate to provide decent living for their families. The Southern Illinois Congressman stated that many employees are forced to find part-time jobs to supplement their income.

Gray said it was the duty of the Federal Government to pay its employees a fair wage in order that they will not be forced to take on other jobs. He told the Committee that during the last several years the Nation has been experiencing increased living costs and that a raise was in order for the postal worker to be able to buy the necessities for his family in today's inflated market.

The legislation introduced by the Southern Illinois Congressman would provide a pay raise amounting to approximately 10% with some classifications receiving more. Hearings are now in progress on Gray's bill and others, and he urged all interested persons to write a letter directly to the Chairman of the Committee urging favorable action. The address is as follows:

Honorable Tom Murray,
Chairman
House Post Office and Civil Service Committee
House Office Building
Washington 25, D. C.

The present number of dairy cows on farms in the United States is the smallest in two decades, but milk production is at an all-time high.

There is no interference with academic pursuits, no meetings or drills to attend or special courses to take. The program consists of two six-week summer training periods held at Quantico, Virginia and must be completed prior to graduation. When the requirements for a degree are met, a commission as a second lieutenant is tendered.

The officer candidate course is open to qualified seniors and college graduates. After graduation,

Bill Signed to Permit Increase In Small Loans

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special) — Small loan companies are authorized to increase their loans from $500 to $800 under legislation approved by the Illinois General Assembly and signed into law last week by Gov. William G. Stratton. The increase becomes effective July 1. Until that time the companies cannot make single loans of more than $500.

The measure's sponsors included a south central and a southern Illinoisan. One was Rep. Edward C. Eberspacher, D., Shelbyville, and the other was Rep. Lloyd Harris, D., Granite City. It was introduced, according to a statement by the sponsors, because "inflation has made the present $500 loan limit inadequate to meet borrowers' needs."

The newly amended act, it is said, will bring Illinois into line with 23 other states which permit single loans of more than $500, and will save borrowers approximately $9 million a year in interest. It paves the way for single loans rather than require borrowers to get two loans when there is need of more than $500.

'Out Our Way' Cartoonist Dies

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — J. R. Williams, 69, creator of the panel cartoon "Out Our Way," died Monday night.

He had suffered a relapse following a recent operation and was returned to the hospital last week. A heart condition complicated by the post-operative condition was assigned as cause of death.

Garde disclaimed the honor. "His reputation, of course, is known to me."

"Yes. He had a stroke, and its effects have been most distressing. He can't talk, you see. He'll repeat words after me, but he can't seem to think them up for himself and say them."

"It happens after strokes. The term is aphasia."

Again Garde was struck by his inability to decide what would be the acceptable comment; hoping for some clue, he glanced at the daughters and found that they both sat white and still. A bell began to ring in Garde's memory.

"Knocked the boy down for kissing Nan Stanfield..." Dr. Ruble had said that. Which one was Nan? Both girls looked equally stricken at what must have been the memories stirred by their father's talk. If the dark one were Nan, she was much too young for such grief as would have been hers.

"Why," cried his mother, leaning toward the dark girl who then must be Nan, "you are the girl who..."

Garde set down his Haviland teacup, but the older sister was already diverting attention to herself. "And I," she was saying in a silky voice—as silky as a slender, white-steel knife—"I was the snake in the grass! Don't tell me that you don't recognize me. Surely you have a TV set?"

Garde relaxed. That one could take care of herself and of her family. Beautiful, serene, imperious.

"Dear TV," the blonde young woman was drawing. "Bayard wouldn't be what it is if it were not within good reception distance of the city stations."

Garde glanced at his mother who was managing to be agitated, excited and awe-struck. "Oh, my!" she cried breathlessly. "Why, of course! You've Valley Stanfield—Wednesday nights — 'Penny For Your Thoughts' — the panel. Of course! Why, to think..."

"Yes," said Valley Stanfield coolly.

His mother, however, attached a great deal of significance to the fact that she was entertaining a personality. And Valley was being deedly sweet about her burblings.

"Don't worry," she murmured. "Valley is used to it. And I find her shadow refreshing."

"Not too obscuring a shadow, is it?" he asked. "You look like a person who keeps busy."

"Oh, I am. I do. And some of it is worth while. I serve as secretary for the church; that's a part-time job, of course, but I keep the records, mimeograph the weekly bulletins, serve as general contact for the church and its activities—I even have a desk at the parish house. And a salary. It's tiny, but regular." She smiled.

Macmillan and Stassen Confer On Differences

LONDON (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan called in U. S. disarmament delegate Harold E. Stassen for personal consultations today amid reports of a major Anglo-American difference over halting nuclear tests.

Macmillan invited Stassen and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to dinner at No. 10 Downing Street tonight. It will be the prime minister's first direct talks with Stassen since the five-power disarmament conference opened.

Lloyd, who has taken over as Britain's delegate to the talks, scheduled an afternoon conference with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin.

The Macmillan-Stassen meeting coincided with reports that Britain has raised sudden new objections to the new U. S. disarmament plan on grounds it would jeopardize the entire British defense plan.

Informal sources said Britain's new reliance on a "nuclear deterrent" defense strategy had thrown a hitch into Western negotiations for a solid front disarmament plan. The West has always demanded that Russia stop producing new nuclear weapons as part of the CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to 5-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

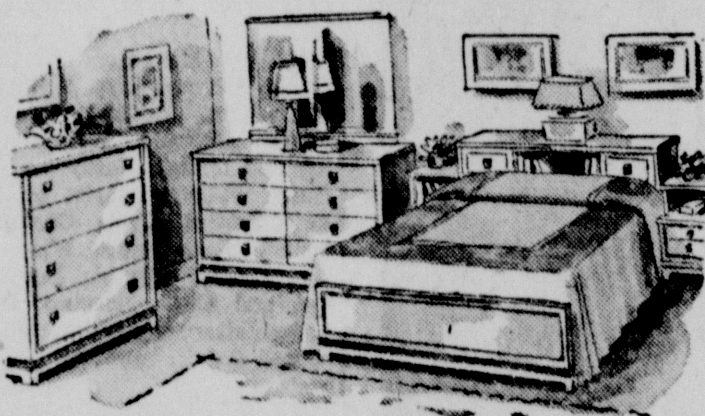

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Satan Constant Thorn in Crusade, Evangelist Billy Graham Says

NEW YORK (AP) — The devil leaves alone the people he knows he's trapped but doesn't really start working on others until they give their lives to Christ, evangelist Billy Graham said Tuesday night.

Among those to whom the devil represents a constant thorn in the side, Graham said, is Billy Graham.

In a sermon on the nature and works of Satan, Graham told a Madison Square Garden audience of 16,500 persons that every time he preached on the devil "his Satanic majesty has tried to hamper my delivery."

"I keep a diary and I'm writing down every way Satan has attacked this crusade," Graham said. "I have to admit he's done a lot to hurt it."

"I don't know whether Satan controls the weather, but he's done what to him must be a good job over the weekend."

Since a stifling heat wave hit the East a week ago, attendance at Graham's sermons has dropped an average of 1,500 persons a night. However, as of the close of the fifth week of the crusade Tuesday night, more than 600,000 persons have attended the sermons.

He said his sermon on Satan "has always been one of the most difficult for me to prepare and preach, because the devil's in there working."

"Today, for instance, as I was dictating my sermon notes, the dictaphone caught fire and we had to get the hotel engineers to fix it. Then I lost two pages of the notes. Something like this always happens when I preach on the devil."

Seeks Damages for Fall Off Hay Truck While Working on Farm

William H. Williams seeks $5,000 damages from Alfred Gulley and Roy Melton in a circuit court action which says Williams fell off a hay truck while working on the farm of the defendants.

The complaint says Williams was riding on a truckload of baled hay that was being conveyed from a field to a barn at the farm in Mountain township, that the truck was driven by Jane Gulley.

The complaint says that when Jane Gulley drove across a ditch Williams fell off the truck to the ground and was injured.

Filing the complaint for Williams were Atty. Harry McCabe of Harrisburg and Atty. Ralph Harris and Robert Holbrook of Marion.

Sparta Man Indicted In Fatal Shooting

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A circuit court grand jury has indicted Raymond G. Stone, 26, Sparta, Ill., in the fatal shooting of a bartender a week ago.

Police charge that Stone shot and killed Robert Amster, St. Louis, after stealing $100 from an Olive Street tavern. Amster was shot as he chased the bandit out the front door of the tavern.

Stone was arrested in his Sparta home some 15 hours after the shooting. He was traced through his license number which witnesses gave to police.

Horses Leave Owner On Way to Races

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — Victor Kessling, Humboldt, Neb., finally got his two race horses to the Ak-Sar-Ben meet in Omaha, but for a time he wasn't sure he had any horses.

Kessling was motoring along the highway, pulling a trailer containing the two horses — or so he thought.

When he reached Auburn, he looked back and discovered the trailer was no longer with him. Backtracking 20 miles, he found the trailer overturned at a rail crossing. The horses were only slightly bruised.

Delight and Worry—Russia Introduces Installment Buying

MOSCOW (AP) — Russians soon will experience the delights—and the worry—of buying on the installment plan.

The introduction of what is an entirely novel financing system in the Soviet has been announced by Minister of Internal Trade D. V. Pavlov.

It has not been announced how much and which goods can be bought now and paid for later. But it will not include houses or automobiles.

Pavlov had another surprise for the Russians. Two hundred thousand automatic vending machines will be installed soon in stores and snack bars throughout the country's big cities. By dropping in their kopeks, Russians will get sandwiches, coffee, cosmetics and, perhaps, even cigarettes.

Seek Motive For Booby-Trap Bombing

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Authorities sought a motive today for a booby-trap bombing which ripped an arm and leg off a Rockford alderman's wife.

Critically injured was Mrs. Alma Anderson, 61, wife of Alderman Eric A. Anderson, a real estate and insurance man who was not at home at the time of the blast Tuesday.

The explosion hurled bits of Mrs. Anderson's flesh and pieces of burning cloth 40 feet through the air. It smashed concrete steps in the breezeway of the Anderson home, where the bomb exploded, and rocked other homes in the immediate area.

"I believe the bomb was meant for me," Anderson said.

He has established a record as a crime-fighter in past years and had been a key figure in a grand jury investigation of alleged bribe solicitation by city officials.

But police said they knew of nothing in his background to inspire an attack on his life or the lives of anyone in his family. The controversial matters in which he frequently engaged were regarded as political disagreements only.

Police said Mrs. Anderson apparently was standing directly over the explosive when it went off. Firemen said paper and other material found at the scene indicated the bomb was composed of dynamite triggered by a battery.

Investigators theorized that the trigger mechanism was in a screen door opening onto the breezeway. They thought it had been planted in the night.

Eisenhower Defends Civil Rights Plan

Stratton Signs Deer Hunting, Shoplifting Bills

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton has signed into law a bill authorizing the first deer hunting season in Illinois in 50 years.

The bill signed Tuesday will permit the Conservation Department to carry out its plans for a shotgun and bow and arrow deer season.

The governor also signed a bill designed to protect merchants against an estimated $80-million-dollar annual shoplifting loss.

The bill when it becomes effective July 1 will allow a merchant or his employees to detain a shoplifting suspect for a reasonable length of time to determine the ownership of merchandise.

Such detention will not be considered arrest and thus the merchant will not be liable to false arrest suits.

Eldorado Man Is Sentenced

LeRoy Dooley of Eldorado, indicted for the burglary of the Locker Plant grocery at Eldorado, yesterday was sentenced to a term of one to three years in the state penitentiary when he pleaded guilty before Judge C. E. Wright in circuit court here.

His brother, James, who had not been in serious trouble previously, was placed on probation for three years.

A third person implicated in the burglary, Donald King, has not been sentenced.

The Dooley boys were represented by Atty. Charles Jelliffe. Atty. Lester Lightfoot will represent King.

Egypt Receives 3 Soviet Subs

By United Press

Israel expressed growing concern today at Egypt's acquisition of three Soviet submarines, and informed sources said an attack on Israeli shipping meant war.

The Israeli cabinet met in emergency session Tuesday night and early today to discuss the Soviet move which once again shifted the Middle East balance of power.

Jerusalem dispatches said the atmosphere in Israel resembled that of the days just before the Sinai invasion when a swift Israeli drive captured much of the Soviet equipment turned over to Egypt in the 1955 Czech arms deal.

A series of new incidents along the Gaza Strip heightened tension in that area, and some Israeli sources said Cairo might be planning new actions to force Israel to attack.

A double mine explosion Tuesday killed one member of a U. N. Emergency Force patrol and seriously wounded four others. Earlier, UNEF troops shot and killed two Arabs trying to cross the border into Israel.

Yugoslav troops were the victims, and UNEF officers said it appeared that some mines had been laid deliberately to harm UNEF troops. Two Indian soldiers were killed in a mine explosion earlier this year.

Gov. Stratton Turns Over $20,000 to Red Cross Disaster Fund

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton has ordered that $20,000 in state money be turned over to the Red Cross disaster fund for flood and tornado victims in Illinois.

The Red Cross started the fund here, with a goal of $200,000, after a tornado hit Springfield last week.

Then the Madison-St. Clair county area was hit this past weekend by heavy floods.

Stratton Tuesday directed state finance chief Morton H. Hollingsworth to release $20,000 from the reserve emergency fund appropriated to the Finance Department.

Elvis Presley Fans Save Him From Crew Cut

By ALINE MOSBY

United Press Hollywood Writer HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Elvis Presley was all shook up with gratitude today. Durned if his fans didn't keep MGM studio from chopping off his famous sideburns and bangs.

MGM figured on giving Elvis a crewcut and shaving off those side-whiskers because he plays a convict in "Jailhouse Rock," the third movie on the agenda of the Presley steamroller through Hollywood.

But this news caused the big gest crisis in the movie business since Lassie was exposed as a he. Four thousand post cards and letters from Presley fans poured in to MGM, begging that the studio let their hero act with his original hair hanging around his sensual looking face.

A Fortville, Ind., mother wrote "We love him at our house. Elvis has had more criticism than any one but his loyal fans stand by him—don't cut his hair. It's his trademark."

Some fans threatened to picket the picture. A Missoula, Mont., girl wrote that "all of us are sick about the haircut." Letters arrived from the Rock n' Roll Kats Fan Club of O'Fallon, Mo., and the Presley Kats Fan Club of Syracuse, N. Y.

"So now the studio has decided I'll wear a wig, a crew-cut wig, for the prison scenes," the victorious Presley announced at lunch.

"Otherwise my hair will look the same, except it was reddened because in black-and-white it photographed like a cap instead of hair."

Elvis was having his usual lunch of mashed potatoes, bacon, sliced tomatoes and Coca-Cola, which he says is the nearest thing he can find around here to mama's Memphis, Tenn., home cooking. His usual retinue of cousins and friends from Tennessee filled his MGM dressing room.

"I never did want my hair cut," Elvis said. "I wear long hair and sideburns because some people look better with long hair. I do because my face is long."

Social Brethren, Dairy Brand and Jackson's Win Kiwanis League Games

Social Brethren edged Barger's Accountants, 15-14; Dairy Brand blanked Ridgway, 22-0; and Jackson's Drugs blasted Pankey's Bakery, 17-1, on a no-hitter by Stephen Maszaros, in Kiwanis league play Tuesday.

Social Brethren rallied for four runs in the last inning to win over Barger's. The losers, who outthit the winners, 12-4, were led by Williams with three hits, and Bishop, Emery and Keltner with two each. Dillard, Wilson, Sweat and Bennett picked up the winners' safeties.

Gulley pitched a two-hit shutout and hit a homer and a double to lead Dairy Brand to victory over Ridgway. Also contributing to the winners' 15-hit attack were Mitchell, with three, and Johnson, Zeigler and Wolleson, who picked up two blows apiece. Hopper and Raben hit for the losers.

Maszaros struck out 10 and walked only two in his no-hitter over Pankey's. Howton led Jackson's at the plate with a double and two singles, Abney singled twice and Pickford, Hicks, Jahn and Gee hit safely once. Barrett was the losing pitcher.

The game scheduled for 3:30

Final arrangements are being made this week for the third annual Metropolis Open set for Saturday and Sunday July 6-7, at the Metropolis Country Club.

There will be cash prizes for professionals, as well as trophies and valuable merchandise prizes for amateurs and teams.

George Miller, tournament chairman, has asked all golfers who intend to have their entry in as near July 1 as possible so that the best starting times and pairings can be arranged.

Spectators are invited to watch the 36 hole medal play tourney without charge and they will be able to purchase food and refreshments at the club.

Bobby Shantz Wins Seventh Straight for Yankees; Orioles Hand Pierce Fourth Defeat

By United Press
Bobby Shantz, the New York Yankees' 142-pound pitching giant, owns an 8-1 record and 1.86 earned run average today that make him baseball's No. 1 candidate for "comeback of the year" honors.

Shantz, showing the same form that made him the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1952, turned in his seventh straight victory Tuesday night when he beat the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, to move the Yankees within 2 1-2 games of the first-place Chicago White Sox. The White Sox suffered their sixth loss in 10 games when Billy Pierce walked over the winning run in a 2-1 defeat at the hands of the Baltimore Orioles.

Bobby Richardson, the man who made Billy Martin expendable, delivered a sacrifice fly in the second inning and singled home the winning Yankee run in the fifth to help hand Billy Hoeft his fourth defeat. A crowd of 33,124 saw the Tigers score their only run on a walk and two singles.

Pierce Loses No. 4

Pierce suffered his fourth loss against 10 wins when he walked Billy Gardner, Bob Nieman and Jim Busby in succession to give the Orioles their decisive run. George Zuverink shut out the White Sox for the last 2 2-3 innings to gain credit for his seventh victory for Baltimore.

The Cleveland Indians shaded the Boston Red Sox, 7-6, and the Kansas City Athletics beat the Washington Senators, 2-0, in the other AL games. Chico Carrasquel, Vic Wertz, Rocky Colavito and Roger Maris homered for the Indians as Bob Lemon, in his first appearance since May 24, won his fourth game.

Ralph Terry, the ex-Yankee pitched 5-hit ball for 8 2-3 innings for the Athletics and Virgil Trucks struck out Art Schult with the bases filled for the final out. Homers by Lou Skizas and Vic Power produced the Kansas City runs that tagged Ted Abernathy with his seventh defeat.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers dumped Cincinnati into fifth place with a 7-0 victory over the Redlegs; the New York Giants whipped the first-place Milwaukee Braves, 5-4, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Chicago Cubs, 7-6, and the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-1.

Don Newcombe pitched a five-hitter and drove in two runs with a double and a homer as the Dodgers tagged the slumping Redlegs with their fourth straight loss and eighth in nine games. The Dodgers combed five Cincinnati pitchers for 13 hits as Newcombe flipped his third shutout for his sixth triumph.

Giants Keep Rolling

Ray Crone shut out his ex-teammates for six innings to win his first game for the Giants who've won six of their last seven games. Daryl Spencer's two-run sixth-inning single was the decisive blow after an error by Bill Bruton paved the way for Warren Spahn's fourth loss. Wes Westrum homered for the Giants.

Rookie Harry Anderson's grand slam and Rip Repulski's three-run homer provided the Phillies with all their runs as Jim Hearn picked up his first win with 4 1-3 innings of one-run relief pitching. Hearn struck out six of the 15 batters he faced after rookie Jack Sanford, trying for his ninth win, fanned seven batters in 4 2-3 frames.

Bonus pitcher Art Swanson pitched a four-hitter in his first big league start and was backed by a 12-hit Pittsburgh attack that included two homers by Bill Virdon. Larry Jackson yielded nine hits and four runs in 6 2-3 innings to suffer his third loss compared with eight wins.

New Fall Apple Is Developed in N. Y.

GENEVA, N. Y. — (AP) — A fall apple that ripens about two weeks ahead of the popular McIntosh, filling the gap between that variety and Earl McIntosh, has been introduced by the New York State experiment station here.

The new apple has been named "Barry" in honor of Patrick Barry and his son, William, of the once-famous Elwanger and Barry Nursery at Rochester, N. Y. It was developed from a cross made in 1923 between McIntosh and Cox Orange, an old European variety of very high quality but little known in the United States.

The Barry is rated high as a dessert apple. It is especially recommended as a home garden variety.

"Sun and Fun" for handicapped children ending August 10.

This well-known summer recreational, educational, and therapeutic camp, sponsored by the Southern Illinois Association for the Crippled, Inc., has in the past five years served over 430 youngsters from all over the thirty-three-county area incorporated by the organization. Approximately 200 children are expected to attend this year, according to James N. Porter, Executive Secretary.

"A new feature added to the Camp this year," Porter said, "will be a Physical Therapist who will give physical therapy treatments to those campers needing it, under prescription from the child's doctor. The addition of the physical therapist to our staff will enable some children to come to camp who have not been able to attend before because it meant interrupting their weekly treatments." Porter also reported that not only will the children do all the things normal children do in camp (to the extent of their individual abilities), but many out-of-town camp trips are planned for them. They will be the guests of many area organizations at county fairs, and this year will tour Scott Air Force Base near Belleville, as guests of the Air Force.

Area residents wishing information regarding camp enrollment should contact their local County Health Department or write directly to the Southern Illinois Association for the Crippled, Inc., P. O. Box 249, Carbondale, Illinois.
